

Armelle Lavoisy - Chief Information & Transformation Officer

A graduate of EDHEC Business School in 1998, Armelle has dedicated her entire career to Information Systems. From Saint Gobain to Damart and Edenred, she has worked across a range of diverse industries, consistently engaged with transformation challenges.

In 2024, she joined Manutan as Chief Information & Transformation Officer and became a member of the Group's Executive Committee. Her goal is to position her team as a business partner supporting the company's digital transformation.

Armelle is also a member of the French Women CIO association, which aims to enhance the visibility of women in digital professions.
