

Philippe Mallard – Managing Director of Manutan Collectivités, in charge of the Manutan group Local Authorities division

With 25 years' experience in sales and marketing on the local authorities and education market, Philippe joined Manutan in 2014 as Managing Director of Manutan Collectivités. He created a meaningful vision with a growth strategy and adapted organisational structure to bring teams together around a dynamic of continuous improvement, with the aim of building a responsible and inspiring market leader that contributes. In 2021, he started as head of the Group 'local authorities' division in parallel, which also includes the subsidiaries Casal Sport and Papeteries Pichon.

All you need. With love.